Conspiracy to murder charge

KAMEL MERZOUG, 32, of no fixed address, was charged with conspiracy to murder and conspiracy to cause a public nuisance when he appeared before Bow Street magistrates in central London. He was remanded in custody. Two other men, aged 32 and 25, were charged with forgery.

Rescue at sea

THREE men in a light aircraft were rescued unhurt by a trawler after their plane ditched off the Isles of Scilly. The pilot, aged 79, and his passengers, aged 81 and 82, were all former search and rescue pilots.

Seven in court

SIX men and one woman will appear in court tomorrow at Stornoway on the Isle of Lewis to face charges under the Child Protection Act. Police said 10-20 people had been arrested after raids.

Football hooligans face cold Turkey

MORE than 1,800 convicted or suspected football hooligans must hand in their passports by tomorrow to comply with police regulations aimed at preventing them travelling to Turkey for this week's Euro 2004 qualifier in Istanbul.

CORRECTION

Banca del Gottardo

A REPORT (Banker who hid Saddam's millions, April 13) based on thousands of documents about the network of offshore companies set up by Elio Borradori to hide Saddam Hussein's financial assets also stated that money had passed through an account at the Banca del Gottardo in Nassau in the Bahamas in the 1970s and 1980s and possibly till as late as 1998. We now accept there is no evidence that the account existed after United Nations sanctions were imposed in 1990. The public prosecutor in Ticino, Switzerland (where the bank is registered) says a bank statement referred to in the article and indicating otherwise was counterfeit. There is therefore no suggestion that the bank acted in breach of UN sanctions and we regret if our article gave a contrary impression.
