Frankfurt, Germany (ots) -

Expanding on its extensive range of Internet activities, Fraport AG Frankfurt Airport Services Worldwide is introducing a new electronic marketplace for used airport vehicles and equipment available from the company's Aviation Ground Services and Logistics (BVD) strategic business division. Aimed at airport specialists around the world, this Internet technical bourse is located on the English version of Fraport's corporate Web site at: www.fraport.com (click on "Business Divisions/Aviation Ground Services & Logistics").

The electronic marketplace allows buyers to view used aircraft tow tractors, high-lift vehicles, aircraft passenger stairs and many other items retired from Fraport BVD's fleet, which are still ideal for operations elsewhere. Technical data for the items being sold is also available online. Interested buyers can make direct contact with Fraport AG by completing an online form that is sent automatically via e-mail.
