Wien (euro adhoc) - *OMV has further extended its average maturity of debt by issuing a Eurobond with a volume of EUR 500 mn, a maturity of 10 years and a coupon of 4.25%

*OMV is securing its strong liquidity position by extending its oil price and USD hedging strategy into 2012

Today, OMV priced a Eurobond transaction, which is issued out of OMV's EUR 3 bn Euro Medium Term Note Program (EMTN) - a funding program that allows OMV to issue debt in the Euromarkets on a regular and continuous basis. The bond has a volume of EUR 500 mn, a denomination of EUR 1,000, a coupon of 4.25% and a maturity date of October 12, 2021. The order book was significantly oversubscribed due to the strong interest from investors. OMV has applied for listings in Luxembourg and Vienna.

The proceeds are to be used for general corporate purposes and will extend the average maturity of debt, therefore optimizing OMV's debt structure.

In order to partly protect the Group's cash flow from the negative impact of lower oil prices, derivative instruments have been used to hedge earnings in the Exploration and Production business segment for 50,000 bbl/d in 2012. OMV has entered into oil price swaps, locking in a Brent price of approx. USD 101.5/bbl for a production volume of 50,000 bbl/d (thereof 30,000 bbl/d at Petrom level). Furthermore, EUR-USD average rate forwards at USD 1.36 have been used to hedge an exposure of approx. USD 750 mn, to reduce the currency volatility associated with the Brent swap.

David C. Davies, Deputy Chairman of the Executive Board and Chief Financial Officer of OMV, said: "By taking the aforementioned measures, we are able to strengthen our liquidity position and to maintain our competitive investment grade credit rating. Through the bond issue, we have further improved our maturity profile and again reduced the Group's reliance on bank debt. Our operational and financial strength as well as our healthy balance sheet allow us to further pursue our growth strategy."
