Winter flight schedule 2023/2024: an attractive range of destinations

At EuroAirport, the new 2023/2024 winter flight schedule will come into effect on Sunday, October 29, 2023. Valid until March 30, 2024, it will feature 77 destinations in 28 countries in Europe and the Mediterranean region via direct flights offered by a total of 21 airlines.

EuroAirport is the Tri-Border Area's airport for direct flights within Europe and to the Mediterranean region. The winter flight schedule 2023/2024 (valid until March 30, 2024) offers a total of 77 destinations via direct flights out of EuroAirport. The range of offers consists, among others, of flight destinations within Europe that are located in Spain, France, Italy, Great Britain as well as in Turkey and also includes destinations in North Africa such as Morocco, Tunisia, Egypt and Algeria.

Several airlines propose attractive connecting flights via their international hubs: Aegean Airlines (Athens), Air France (Paris), Austrian Airlines (Vienna), British Airways (London), KLM (Amsterdam), Lufthansa (Frankfurt and Munich), Pegasus Airlines and Turkish Airlines (Istanbul), Sun Express (Antalya and Izmir) as well as Vueling (Barcelona).

Several flight destinations will be newcomers or relaunched for the upcoming winter season, including flights to the cities of Funchal and Enfidha via easyJet, to the city of Oran via ASL Airlines as well as to London Stansted with Ryanair.

In addition, Chair Airlines will start to operate the Basel-Pristina route with the beginning of the winter flight schedule. For this purpose, the airline will station an Airbus A320 aircraft at EuroAirport. With a connection operated by Sun Express, the destination of Kayseri, which was previously served exclusively in the summer, will now be included in the winter flight schedule as well. Furthermore, Aegean Airlines will offer flights to Thessaloniki over the Christmas period.

There is an increase in capacity this winter on various flight routes such as Lisbon, London-Gatwick and Zagreb.

The new flight schedule is available on EuroAirport's website. Destinations, available airlines and flight frequencies are regularly updated online: Our destinations | EuroAirport
